Find Where Bottle of Poisoned Ale Came From.

SOME PADUCAH WOMAN IN IT

Philadelphia, Pa., July 13.—Microscopic examination of the impression of the seal used on the bottle of poisoned ale with which Dr. William H. Wilson was murdered was made today by diemakers, who announce that it apparently had been made with a seal manufactured by but one firm in the country, C. H. Hanson & Company of Chicago, who have a branch house in New York.

Certain markings in the wax, it was declared, were peculiar to seals made by the Chicago firm.

In the hope of obtaining new clues Assistant District Attorney Gray, accompanied by two experts, today took with him to a seaside resort about 1,500 letters found among Dr. Wilson's papers. Most of them are from Dr. Wilson's women patients, and from such widely separated points as New York, Baltimore, Washington, Boston and Paducah, Ky. Many are written in a secret code. When the assistant district attorney is through with them they will be turned over to a score of detectives, and, if possible, the writers will be found and interviewed in the hope of finding some one who entertained such an equity against the slain physician as to cause his death.

CHINESE SAILORS TRY SUICIDE FROM BAD SHIP.

New York, July 13.—Death followed mutiny here on the good ship Straphyre, of Glasgow, when eleven of her Chinese crew, driven to desperation by the alleged brutalities of Capt. John Gunn, attempted suicide by drowning in the Erie basin, where the ship lies. Two perished.

JAPAN INDIGNANT.

Doesn't Like the Exclusion Plank
in Democratic Platform.

Tokio, July 13.—The news of the action of the Democratic national convention at Denver, including in its platform a plank favoring the exclusion from the United States of Asiatic laborers, is taken here to be directed against Japanese, and is causing considerable surprise and displeasure. In some quarters indignation is expressed and the declaration is made that such a course is an infringement on the treaty rights of Japan and opposed to the principle of humanity that should govern the relations of nations.

It is generally believed, however, by those familiar with political conditions in America that the majority of Democrats are not anti-Japanese in sentiment and that the exclusion clause was incorporated in the platform for the purpose of satisfying the labor element.

Government is Preparing to Take Active Steps to Protect American Property in Threatened Section

Secretary of State Root and Assistant Secretary Bacon Confer With Roosevelt About Situation in Central America

Oyster Bay, July 13.—Secretary of State Root and Assistant Secretary Bacon are conferring with President Roosevelt regarding the situation in Venezuela and Honduras. It was decided to take prompt measures to protect American interests through out the country where trouble is threatened. It is probable warships will be sent to various Central American ports.

Situation in Honduras.

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, July 8, via New Orleans, La., July 13.—The fighting which has occurred about Gracias and Choluteca bears the earmarks of organized revolution. The reports say the attacks on these towns were begun by small bodies of armed men, who were at first repulsed by government troops, but who returned the attacks and finally won.

Although the captors of these towns were said to be men from Salvador, a significant fact is that preceding their appearance in Honduras officials of this government claim to have received notice of a preconcerted plan for uprisings throughout Honduras. To nip these uprisings in the bud, several arrests were made here and at San Pedro before the Honduran frontier was invaded from Salvador.

Apparently the Honduran officials believe these arrests have effectually squelched the revolutionary movement among the residents of this country, but they fear that the appearance of fresh bodies of invaders from any of the other republics may revive an armed opposition in Honduras. President Daxila has declared the republic in a state of war and has begun to concentrate Honduran troops as rapidly as possible in order to beat off the invaders.

Bonilla in Lincolntown. Report places two of the leading personalities of the five republics at the head of the present imbroglio. Estrada Cabrera, president of Guatemala, and Manuel Bonilla, who was a year ago deposed by a revolution from the presidency of Honduras, are these alleged leaders, and while the reports differ as to the details of their plan, an attack on Nicaragua is said to be their aim.

It is said that if Honduras is gained possession of, the revolutionists will again make Bonilla president and that General Domingo Vasquez will march at the head of an army into

ULTRA-RICH COMPELLED TO RETRENCH IN PERSONAL AND HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES

It is Estimated That They Will Reduce Annual Expenditures
by Fifteen Millions.

New York, July 13.—Statisticians here estimate that as the result of the "millionaires' hardships," of which much is being said, following a startling interview by Stuyvesant Fish, the next few months will see the reduction of fifteen millions in household personal expenses of the wealthy families. Compilations show the conditions of farmers and laborers is improving, but the ultra-rich are growing worse. John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil, announced that he is reducing expenses everywhere. It is reported that the following will make reductions: Helen Gould, $300,000; Vanderbilts, $600,000; Fish, $200,000; Archbold, $100,000. The Astors are the only family which are not compelled to make reductions.

MRS. GRIFFITH ILL

Mrs. B. B. Griffith, wife of Dr. B. B. Griffith, of Tenth and Jefferson streets, is precariously ill and little hope was held out today for her recovery. Mrs. Griffith has been sick nearly two weeks from stomach trouble, complicated by an extremely weak heart. She has been kept alive for the last few days by stimulants and gradually has grown weaker, not being able to retain nourishment on her stomach. Mrs. Griffith is widely known in the city and in the country, where she is feared and her friends will regret to learn of her condition, hoping that a turn for the better may come, as in a former illness of a similar character.

AUTO GOES OVER BANK.
Louisville, Ky., July 13. (Special.)—Richard Menfee, Shelby Bonnie and wife, Carl Wiseman, Miss Elizabeth Shirley and Sam Barr, the chauffeur, plunged over a wrecked bridge into Salt river 20 miles from Louisville on the Bardstown pike after midnight. The auto jumped 20 feet. All are seriously injured but will recover. They are society people.

Nicaragua. If victorious, he is to be made president of Nicaragua, thus bringing the three largest of the five republics—Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua—under the control of a faction with the president of Guatemala at its head.

Arizona Town is Damaged.

Phoenix, Ariz., July 13.—Tempe was badly damaged by the worst electrical and hail storm in the town's history. Communication with the town is crippled.

PROHIS MEET

Columbus, O., July 13.—Hundreds of delegates to the Prohibition national convention, which begins Wednesday, are here. The platform and candidates are both uncertain. Fred F. Wheeler, of Los Angeles; Alfred Manire, of New York; Dan Sheen, of Illinois, and Judge Samuel Artman, of Indiana, are regarded as the likeliest candidates for president.

JUST RUNNING HIMSELF TO DEATH WHEN CAUGHT

Some thief stole several of the Filipino bamboo steins, which August Schuermann, the St. Louis decorator, had for sale at the Eagles' building during the K. T. M. convention, so one of his men laid in wait for the thief. While he was thus employed he took the time to carry inside the soldier and sailor figures, which adorned the front of the building. The soldier with his gun "at charge" stood just inside a small store room, and a colored employee of the place entered, and then went racing down the hall Schuermann's man chased him out, and presently an extemporaneous posse captured the fleeing colored man. "Aha, you're the fellow" who has been stealing the steins," exclaimed the captor. "Foh Gawd, I ain't done nothing' mistah, but a big white man done pulled a gun on me, an' I 'se runnin' mahself to death."

LIEBEL AGAINST CITY ARGUED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Judge William Reed heard arguments this morning in the injunction case of Sam Liebel versus the City of Paducah, and will reserve his decision until tomorrow morning, when the attorneys for both sides will introduce more authorities to support their respective contentions. City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., and City Attorney A. Y. Martin represent the city in the case, and Judge J. K. Hendrick represents Liebel. If the temporary injunction is sustained it will be carried to the court of appeals by the city.

Liebel claims the land, on which the outhouse which the city wanted moved back from the street line stands, by virtue of having occupied it continuously for fifteen years without protest, but the city's attorney contends that this right does not stand when a municipality is concerned, unless he formally notified the city at the time that he intended to claim it at the expiration of fifteen years. Some compromise may be reached whereby a long drawn out legal contest will be avoided.

ELKS IN SESSION

Dallas, Tex., July 13.—The national convention of Elks opened today. There are nearly 25,000 visitors attending. Addresses of welcome and responses were made today. Grand Exalted Ruler Tenor was the principal speaker.

GRATIFYING ARE INCREASES MADE IN STAMP SALES

Postoffice Report for Last Fiscal Year Exceeds Twelve Month's Preceding.

How Office Has Grown Under Present Management.

POSTMASTER FISHER'S WORK

Gratifying increases are shown in the report of the Paducah postoffice for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908. The stamp sales at the local office for the year totaled $65,723.49, an increase of $4,049.01 over the year ending June 30, 1907. Since Postmaster F. M. Fisher has been in charge, the sales have grown from $35,394.86 in 1899, to $65,394.49 in 1908. There were six carriers in 1899 and in 1908 there are 13, with good chances of adding another one this fall. The month of June alone showed an increase over the corresponding month of 1907 of $1,094. With five clerks in 1899, the postoffice has grown to eleven clerks in 1908.

Postmaster F. M. Fisher will return this week from Washington, where he went to get an increase in the local force and to hurry up the repairs on the building appropriated for by congress. He is now in consultation with William H. Taft and Frank H. Hitchcock in Hot Springs, Va.

In Circuit Court.

Loeb, Bloom & company filed suit in circuit court against Alex Story for $195 alleged to be due on account. Barry & Henneberger, contractors, filed a mechanics' lien against property belonging to Story for materials furnished to construct sidewalks.

Just Ready to Enter House.

Waiting just in time to hear the back door knob turn at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, Mrs. J. L. Thompson, of 1107 Monroe street, is certain that her house was the objective point of another of the burglaries that have alarmed Paducah citizens in the last two weeks. When Mrs. Thompson raised up in bed, the man stepped down off the back door step and when Mr. Thompson went out to investigate, no one could be found. She could see through the lattice door of the back porch onto which their bedroom opened, but could not tell whether the intruder was white or black.

May Hear News in Chicago.

Denver, Col., July 13.—When the Democratic national committee gets to Lincoln one of the things that will particularly be decided will be the time and place for the notification of Mr. Bryan of his nomination. There is a disposition among the members to make that notification a big function and open the campaign with a whoop.

They favor a joint notification of the presidential and vice presidential candidates, and for first choice would select the Coliseum at Chicago as the place. They are yet to learn, however, what sort of a campaign Mr. Bryan intends to make, and of course will follow his desire about the notification.

It has practically been settled that the campaign headquarters of Mr. Bryan will be at Chicago, and already the committee is trying to get rooms in the Rand-McNally building for that purpose. That question will also be solved at Lincoln. And if Chicago is chosen there will be a branch headquarters at either New York or Washington. The committee will reach Chicago on July 25.

REV. C. E. JACKSON ACCEPTS CALL TO TENTH ST. CHURCH

C. E. Jackson, who by invitation visited and preached for Tenth Street Christian church in May, has accepted the unanimous call of the church to become the pastor. Mr. Jackson is a native of Georgia, and has been in the Bible college at Lexington six years, preparing himself for the ministry. He has preached every Sunday morning and evening for churches near Lexington. In this six years' hard study and preaching he feels the need of rest, which he will take with his people in Georgia until September 1. Then he will come to take up his work as minister of Tenth Street church. A hearty welcome will be extended Mr. Jackson.

Americans Tipped as Winners in Olympian Games in Which Thirty Nations Are Competing at London

Three Kings Are Watching
Royal Sport, Which Opened
This Afternoon With Parade of Champions.

London, July 13.—Before a crowd of 100,000, including three kings, Edward, of England; George, of Greece, and Haakon, of Norway, the Olympic games opened this afternoon. Athletes of 30 nations paraded before the royal box, America heading the march. King Edward formally opened the games, which will last two weeks. The American team is regarded as probable winners. J. E. Sullivan, the American manager, says America is sure of seven firsts, and England six. The other eleven events are uncertain.

John L. and Jake It.

Texarkana, Ark., July 13.—Among the prominent personages to pass through here en route to the big Elks' convention at Dallas were John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain, the famous prize fighters of former years. The train stopped here for nearly an hour, and the two pugilists were viewed by 200 or 300 people. Both were in apparent good health and chatted freely, answering good-naturedly all questions put to them by their curious interviewers.

Resumes Bridge Work.

Road Supervisor Bert Johnson left this morning for Ogden's Landing to resume work on the 90 foot concrete bridge which he hopes to have completed this week. Monday he will start a force of men to work on the 60 foot bridge four and one-half miles from the city on the Husbands road.

BLOW POSTOFFICE SAFE.

Robbers Secure $600 in Stamps and $75 in Cash.

Martin, Tenn., July 13.—The postoffice at this place was entered this morning and the safe blown open and $75 in money and $600 in stamps taken. The safe was muffled with carpets, rugs and bedding and the noise was heard by but few. The postmaster going to the office rather early scared them away. A large posse with bloodhounds are now trailing the robbers.

May Have Been After Governor.

Springfield, Ill., July 13.—The entire police force is seeking a man discovered lurking in the grounds of the governor's mansion Sunday night. Policeman Pahman shot at him when he refused to obey a command to halt. Governor Deneen is working in the state house and it is believed the man planned to attack him.

Messrs. F. N. Whitesides, of Franklin, Ind., and L. B. Whitesides, of New York, are here and other directors will arrive this afternoon. The meeting was postponed until tonight for their presence. It is expected they will award the contracts for the overhead construction of the interurban and for all other material, not yet contracted for, at this meeting. The meeting will be held in the office of General Manager J. J. Freundlich, in the Citizens Savings bank building.

NO EXTRA SESSION.
Lexington, Ky., July 13.—(Special.)—Governor Willson, in replying to Methodists, refused to call an extra session to pass the county unit law. He may call one later for state finances. He says the Democrats and three Republicans are to blame for the failure before.

DOCTORS' OUTING

McCracken county physicians will meet in Brown's grove near Lone Oak tomorrow in the regular monthly summer session of the McCracken County Medical society. They will take their dinners and will be accompanied by their wives for an all-day outing of pleasure and profit. Dr. R. C. Gore, of Lone Oak, will read a paper on "Acute Ileo Colitis," and Dr. H. G. Reynolds will report his observations at the Chicago meeting of the American Medical association.

CONTRACTORS BEGIN ON CITY HALL WORK TODAY.

C. D. Warren & Son began this morning the work of painting the clock tower and outside woodwork and cleaning the stone trimmings of the city hall.

PHYSICIAN IS LIABLE.

More Stringent Regulations on Denatured Alcohol Proposed.

Washington, July 13.—That both the physician who writes a prescription for denatured alcohol and the druggist who prepares the prescription and sells the medicine to the patient are liable to criminal prosecution is held in a decision rendered by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Capers. The decision is the result of the action of some druggists who prescribed denatured alcohol for external medicinal purposes not knowing that to do so is a violation of the law. The decision says in part:

"The second section of the law regulating the sale and manufacture of denatured alcohol provides fine and imprisonment for any person who used denatured alcohol for manufacturing any beverage or liquor medicinal preparation or knowingly sells any preparation made in part or whole from such alcohol."

FAIL TO CONVICT BUT JUDGE TELLS THEM WHAT TO DO

The first effort of citizens of the north side to break up bawdy houses along Campbell street by criminal prosecutions, failed for lack of proof in police court this morning, and May Hill, who was charged with running a disorderly house at 623 Campbell street, was dismissed. Judge Cross made the statement before dismissing the case, that if the police could not furnish evidence sufficient to convince the proprietors of the houses the citizens should take up the matter and hire detectives to visit the places until evidence sufficient to convict was secured, the court promising to assess fines that would be large enough to drive them out of that section of the city. Lottie Schroeder, who lives at the house kept by the Hill woman, was also dismissed on a breach of the peace charge, the prosecuting witness having left the city.

BRYAN AND KERN CONFER TODAY AT FAIRVIEW HOME

Ollie James is Mentioned For Place of National Chairman For Campaign.

Tom Lawson Says He Will Support Ticket.

BRYAN REPUDIATES A STORY

Lincoln, Neb., July 13.—Kern arrived today for a conference with Bryan. Several delegations from the convention also stopped off. It is announced the Democrats will not attack Roosevelt or his politics during the campaign. Theodore Bell is warned, if this is done, he will lose the Pacific coast. Any attacks on Republican politics will be confined to Taft. The national committee is coming tomorrow for an important conference. It is probable the national chairman will be announced. It is reported the place will be given either to Daniel Campau, of Michigan; Ollie James, of Kentucky; J. H. Hatwood, of Kansas, or John E. Lamb, of Indiana.

Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and James Duncan, labor leaders, conferred with Bryan. Gompers announced that the Democratic platform is satisfactory and he intends to support Bryan.

Independence Ticket.

New York, July 13.—Preparations are well underway for the national convention of the Independence party which will be held at Chicago, Monday, July 27. While the eyes of most politicians have been centered upon the Democratic national convention hall in Denver these last few days, the Independence party leaders have been completing their plans for the Chicago convention, and with the return from Europe of William R. Hearst, all will be ready.

The Independence party leaders say they will put a full ticket in the field, and will also try to have a state ticket in every state in the Union. In thirty-eight states national committeemen of the Independence party have been appointed, the last state thus represented being North Dakota.

Although the party leaders have not come out strong as yet for any one man as their standard-bearer, they are for Thomas L. Hilsen, of West Springfield, Mass. Mr. Hilsen ran for governor of Massachusetts two years ago on the Hearst ticket, and polled a surprisingly large vote. This was encouraging to the Independence party leaders. Another possible candidate is M. W. Howard, of Alabama, a member of the national committee of the Independence party from Alabama. He is a former congressman.

BACHELORHOOD RELIC GOES.

St. Louis, Mo., July 13.—Yielding to the pleadings of his wife, who objected to the presence of a magnificent French painting in their home, at 1150 Belt avenue, John T. Milliken, millionaire chemist and mine owner, yesterday sold the picture to Norman E. Vaughan, of 4361 Maryland avenue for $75,000.

The title of the painting is "Stella." It was the dream of Mr. Milliken's bachelor days, he says, and it was painted at his special order by Napoleon Nani, whose representations of the undraped human form has won him world-wide fame.

The figure of Stella, posed in a brilliant light, reclines on a divan of Oriental richness.

Until yesterday the picture was in a room which Mr. Milliken had built especially to house it adjoining his home. He regarded it as one of his most precious possessions.

With a note of deep regret, he said: "It is a very beautiful picture—a great painting that any man ought to be proud to own. But I bought it when I was a bachelor. I am married now; conditions have changed."

Hearsay Evidence.

An eminent lord chief justice, who was trying a right-of-way case, had before him a witness—an old farmer—who was proceeding to tell the jury that he had "known the path for sixty year, and my feyther told I as he heered by grandfeyther zay—"

"Stop!" said the judge. "We can't have any hearsay evidence here!"

"Nah!" exclaimed Farmer Giles. "Then how dost know who thy feyther was?"

"After the laughter had subsided the judge said:

"In courts of law we can only be guided by what you have seen with your own eyes, and nothing more nor less."

"Oh, that he blowed for a tale!" replied the farmer. "I ha' got a bile on the back of my neck, and I never seed 'um, but I am prepared to swear that he's there, hang 'un!"

This second triumph on the part of the witness let in a torrent of hearsay evidence about the footpath which obtained weight with the jury, albeit the judge told them it was not testimony of any value, and the farmer's party won.

"Pay as you go, but try to save enough to get back on."

NATURE STUDIES AGAIN THIS YEAR

James Speed Will Return to the Chautauqua.

Will Be On Program Daily, Excepting Sunday With Illustrated Talks.

WAS POPULAR WITH PUBLIC.

One of the most interesting features of the coming Chautauqua assembly is the return of Mr. James Speed, who will conduct a series of eight study lectures on nature. Mr. Speed's work here last year was entertaining and instructive and many found the course of study under his direction not only most pleasant and interesting but of considerable value and the source of much pleasure.

During the assembly, July 17 to 26, he will deliver a lecture each day, with the exception of Sundays, commencing on July 18, with his most popular and beautifully illustrated lecture entitled, "The Haunt of the Great Blue Heron," and concluding the course the following Saturday with his lecture, "Summer Vacation in the Blue Grass." This latter lecture is beautifully illustrated with views of the famous Blue Grass district of Kentucky.

These studies will be pursued each afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, preceded by reading and other entertainment by Miss Elma B. Smith, a native Kentuckian and prominent entertainer. The two stereopticon lectures by Mr. Speed will be delivered each Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, as it is necessary to have these in the evening in order to properly illustrate them.

Mr. Speed is a born lover of nature and the study he has made of this subject has enabled him to teach his many hearers to see and love the beauty of nature. Mr. Speed is a native Kentuckian and his pleasant voice and his soft southern accent and his unique subject matter give a freshness and novelty to his work that is refreshing.

IMPORTANT DECISION

A. M. LAEVLSON & CO.'S BEVERAGES DECIDED NON-INTOXICATING.

Thos. Cole was tried before police court Judge Cross, charged with selling liquor without a license, and as it developed he sold A. M. Laevlson & Co., Cremo Temperine, Dr. Fliz and other non-intoxicating beverages, and as the evidence showed that these drinks were non-intoxicating, the jury on instructions of Judge Cross dismissed the case, which clearly proves that these beverages were non-intoxicating, and the claims of A. M. Laevlson & Co., were sustained, and this decision is of much importance to A. M. Laevlson & Co., and their numerous customers throughout this vicinity who are handling these beverages.

Too Many Dogs in Texas.

It is unmistakably a fact that there are still too many dogs in the South, both in town and country, even in the most prosperous sections.

They kill sheep in the country and they annoy, if they do not bite, offending persons in the city. They make night hideous with their bark and howl and they make nervous people afraid to go along some of the streets after dark where the unleashed brutes do their prowling.

There are good dogs, of course, but in the estimation of a great many persons other than the Secretary of Agriculture only a small percentage of them are alive.

A "Trained" Nurse.

Police Commissioner Bingham, of New York, was raising the police work of the ten Belgian watchdogs that, recently imported at a cost of but $10 apiece, have reduced the burglaries in the neighborhoods they patrol from ten to two a month.

"They work well," said the Commissioner, "because they are well trained. Training, you know, is everything."

He paused and smiled.

"Two physicians were discussing," he said, "a certain pretty nurse."

"Was she a trained nurse?" said the first physician.

"She must have been," replied the other. "She hadn't been in the hospital a week before she was engaged to the richest patient."—Washington Star.

To which the policeman replied: "I don't care what your religion is—yer can't walk the streets in yer night-shirt."

To Adopt Professional Ethics.

New York.—A draft for the proposed canons of professional ethics has been prepared by a committee of the American Bar Association and is being submitted to members of the association for suggestions and criticisms. The final report, which it is proposed to base upon the suggestions and criticisms received, will be submitted to the association as a whole at the annual meeting next August in Seattle, Wash.

In twenty-seven states of the Union there are codes of ethics more or less complete, which exist as a result of either of codification by statutory enactments of some of the "duties" of lawyers or of the action of bar associations therein in adopting canons of professional ethics.

For some years past members of the bar associations have advocated a movement which should culminate in an authoritatively declared standard of professional conduct, which will not only serve as a guide to the youthful practitioner, but will place the profession before the public in its true light, and thereby free it from public criticism and censure which have at times been bestowed upon it as a result of the misconduct of unworthy men who have found their way into its ranks.

At the 1905 meeting of the association the chairman of the executive committee presented a resolution, which was adopted unanimously, providing for a special committee to report upon the advisability and practicability of the adoption of a code of professional ethics by the association. At the 1906 meeting the committee reported favorably upon both points, and at the 1907 meeting the association directed the committee to prepare a draft for the proposed canons of professional ethics, requesting suggestions and criticisms of all members of the American bar.

In its report the committee says: "The foundation of the draft for canons of ethics is the code adopted by the Alabama State Bar Association in 1887. This draft represents our best present judgment after a most careful consideration of the subject.

"Our profession is necessarily the keystone in the arch of Republican government, and the future of the Republic, to a great extent, depends on our maintenance of the shrine of justice pure and unsullied. It cannot be so maintained unless the conduct and the motives of the members of our profession, who are the high priests of justice, are what they ought to be.

"No code, or set of rules can be framed which will particularize all the duties of the lawyer in the varying phases of litigation or in all the relations of professional life. The following canons of ethics are adopted by the American Bar Association as a general guide, yet the enumeration of particular duties should not be construed as a denial of the existence of others equally imperative, though not specifically mentioned."

The canons deal with the many problems confronting the lawyer in his professional conduct. Among the most important recommendations are the following:

"Defending One Whom Advocate Believes to Be Guilty.—A lawyer may undertake with propriety the defense of a person accused of a crime, although he knows or believes him guilty, and having undertaken it, he is bound by all fair and honorable means to present such defense as the law of the land permits, to the end that no person may be deprived of life or liberty, but by due process of law.

"How Far a Lawyer May Go in Supporting a Client's Cause.—Nothing operates more certainly to create or to foster popular prejudice against lawyers as a class and to deprive the profession of that full measure of public esteem and confidence which belong to the proper discharge of its duties than does the false claim often set up by the unscrupulous in defense of questionable transactions, that it is the duty of the lawyer to do whatever may enable him to succeed in winning his client's cause. A lawyer owes entire devotion to the interest of his client, warm zeal in the maintenance and defense of his cause and the exertion of the utmost skill and ability, to the end that nothing may be taken or withheld from him, save by the rules of law, legally applied. Nevertheless, it is steadfastly to be borne in mind that the great trust is to be performed within and not without the bounds of the law.

"Treatment of Witnesses and Litigants.—A lawyer should always treat adverse witnesses and suitors with fairness and due consideration, and he should never minister to the malice or prejudices of a client in the trial or conduct of a cause.

"Advertising, Direct or Indirect.—The most worthy and effective advertisement possible, even for a young lawyer, and especially with his brother lawyers, is the establishment of a well-merited reputation for professional capacity and fidelity to trust.

"Stirring Up Litigation. Directly or Through Agents.—It is unprofessional for a lawyer to volunteer advice to bring a lawsuit, except in rare cases where ties of blood relationship or trust make it his duty to do so. Not only is stirring up strife and litigation unprofessional, but it is disreputable in morals, contrary to public policy and indelicate at common law. No one should be permitted to remain in the profession who hunts up defects in titles or other causes of action and informs thereof in order to be employed to bring suit, or who breeds litigation by seeking out those with claims for personal injuries or those having any other grounds of action in order to secure them as clients, or who employs agents or runners for like purposes, or who pays or rewards directly or indirectly those who bring or influence the bringing of such cases to his office.

"Responsibility for Litigation.—No lawyer is obliged to act either as adviser or advocate for any person who may wish to become his client. He has the right to refuse retainers. Every lawyer must decide what business he will accept as counselor, what causes he will bring into court for plaintiffs, what cases he will contest in court for defendants.

"The Lawyer's Duty in Its Last Analysis.—No client, corporate or individual, however powerful, nor any cause, civil or political, however important, is entitled to receive, nor should any lawyer render any service or advice involving disloyalty to the law whose ministers we are, or disrespect of the judicial office, which we are bound to uphold, or corruption of any person or persons exercising a public office or private trust or deception or betrayal of the public. When rendering any such improper service or advice the lawyer lays aside his robe of office and in his own person invites and merits stern and just condemnation. Correspondingly, he advances the honor of his profession and the best interests of his client when he renders service or gives advice tending to impress upon the client and his undertaking exact compliance with the strictest principles of moral law."

TOBACCO NEWS

Association Orders.

To prevent the new crop of tobacco coming on the market in competition with the present unsold crop of 1907, the executive committee of the Planters' Protective association will probably issue an order that pricing houses of the association will not begin receiving the new crop until March or April of next year. It is intended that the move will not only force the buyers to take at least a part of the crop now on hand, but will also prevent tobacco being priced and put on the market in winter order, which is said to have been responsible for a large portion of the present crop remaining unsold.

Louisville Week's Report.

Louisville, Ky., July 13.—Interest in tobacco circles still centers in the growing crop. Reports from all sections indicate a healthy condition, with fine growing weather. The local breaks present little of interest during the week. Sales at auction were somewhat restricted, although as a rule the condition of tobacco was better, and the grades generally higher than for several weeks. New burley of the better grades was generally about 1/2c higher. Old burley was quiet, with little change in prices.

The dark market was dull. Offerings were light, and for the most part in poor condition. Prices sagged somewhat on the fired varieties, while the unfired varieties were higher.

The Equity Society had sampled during the week about 600 hogheads of old burley tobacco. There were sold at private sale 250 hogheads of Green river.

Plan to Combine Tobacco Societies.

Springfield, Tenn., July 13.—Agent the meeting of the officials of the several tobacco organizations of Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana, which was held at Bowling Green on July 9 for the purpose of considering the amalgamation of the several tobacco organizations, a meeting was held at Glen Haven, this county, at the home of Felix G. Ewing, general manager of the Planters' Protective association, for the further consideration of the combine. While nothing of a definite form was arrived at, yet the meeting gives further assurance of the certainty of the amalgamation.

The Hon. Felix G. Ewing, ex Hon. Charles H. Fort and the Hon. Joel B. Fort, representing the Planters' Protective association; M. C. Rankin, commissioner of agriculture of Kentucky, and Mr. Clarence Lebus and Miss Alice Lloyd, of the burley division of the Society of Equity, were present.

A meeting of the committee of eight appointed at the meeting at Bowling Green will meet at Guthrie for the purpose of drawing plans of amalgamation to be submitted at the meeting in Bowling Green on August 20.

The several organizations will not lose their identity, but the amalgamation is proposed for the purpose of strength in the tobacco world and for the purpose of protection against hostile legislation.

The amalgamation is proposed to contain the Planters' Protective association, the burley division of the American Society of Equity and the Henderson and Green river stemming districts.

The Planters' Protective association operates in eleven counties in Tennessee and seventeen in Kentucky, controlling nearly 90 per cent of the dark tobacco in these counties. Of the average yearly production of 150,000,000 pounds of dark tobacco election to the office of Clerk of the McCracken County Court subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Daily Thought.

"One man's heart makes him a king in a hovel—another's a wretch in a palace."

We greatly fear that Bill Bryan's crop of alfalfa will be trampled down.

Tom Lawson says he is for Bryan since the latter has abandoned such "poppycockish" as free silver, perhaps, a lot more might support
Bryan if he could get rid of Lawson.

Both Bryan and Kern are good losers. The latter has been defeated for governor of Indiana as often as Bryan has been defeated for president.

Considerable space was given to the Evansville, Ind., man who went five days without tasting water; but there are lots of people in Evansville, who haven't drank any water for a longer time than that.

The Chicago Tribune advocates placing candidates' names on the ticket alphabetically. We shall add we have seen municipal tickets that not only should be indexed, but should be accompanied by references and explanations.

A WATTERSONIAN APPEAL.
Col. Henry Watterson swallows his medicine and writes a testimonial for the proprietor of the nostrum.

In a four column editorial, which harks back for what reason we know not, to the Hayes-Tilden campaign, he attempts to justify his own support of William Jennings Bryan, and establish the fact that Mr. Bryan is fighting for the "people against the Money Devil," to do which the undaunted Colonel must needs prove that Bryan was fighting "for the people" when he (Watterson) was opposing Bryan might and main.
Having swallowed that Col. Watterson dryly remarks: "If the Courier-Journal could get to Mr. Bryan any Democratic may."

It must be admitted in the outset that Col. Watterson succeeds admirably in justifying his own position, as a partisan, and he well says that "any Democrat may," meaning that it is the logical thing for a Democratic politician to support the candidate this year. Unfortunately, it has not been the Democratic politicians, but an overwhelming majority of the voters of the United States, who have repeatedly defeated Mr. Bryan for the presidency.

Col. Watterson argues in this wise, speaking of his conference with Bryan, when we are led to understand that Colonel Watterson suggested to the ambitious Nebraskan that he put aside his lust for office this once and support some one else for the presidency: "Mr. Bryan had his own story to tell. What authority had he to name a successor in case he stepped aside? What power had he, conceding he had the will, to transfer his following to another? Not one, but half a dozen, aspirants would take the field immediately on his withdrawal."

Thus Col. Watterson justifies himself in supporting Bryan. He says if Bryan had withdrawn from the contest it would have been the signal for the money power, which rallied to the support of Johnson at Watterson's call, to push forward their candidate and take possession of the party. Bryan could not name his successor, and Watterson took his view of it.

But that is only the politics of the situation. Watterson before said that Bryan was a demagogue, a dangerous political quantity. He accused the Nebraskan of being a socialist, an anarchist and everything that is bad. Bryan has not changed his views. Has Watterson? Isn't Bryan as dangerous today as he was eight-twelve years ago? Or is Watterson himself become an anarchist? No, we shall show further on that Watterson expects Bryan to be manacled and rendered harmless by the congress.

With an intuition, which is a literary attribute, Col. Watterson appreciates the hold which Bryan retains on the masses of his own party.
"There is in the people a discerning instinct and in Mr. Bryan a reflecting spirit which make for mutual trustfulness, each turning to the other, as both turn to God, with child-like confidence." We have ever cast Mr. Bryan for the role of Protest in the national drama. He is the personification of popular discontent with existing evils, and in that role he has done much good—all the good he will ever do. The protest is directed at minor evils and corruption, which grow up like weeds in every political garden, be it in the nation, state or city; and weeds can not be plucked until they appear above the surface, and it takes a gardener to pluck them up without uprooting good vegetation for which the garden was cultivated. In matters of statesmanship Bryan has never elicited more than a laugh, saving when in his first campaign caused a commercial tragedy by frightening the conservative element of the country. Since then he has not been taken seriously, except that he made possible a reformer like Roosevelt, who is the concrete expression of the Bryan abstraction.

Beyond the inspiration which gave him the definition of Bryan's candidacy, Col. Watterson waxes almost maudlin and inconsistent, as a trial lawyer does, when he hopes to hang the jury by appealing to this one's prejudice and that one's feebleness of intellect. But he touches the pinnacle of absurdity, when, after sounding his call to the "masses" to put down the "Money Devil," he appeals to the High Priests of Finance themselves in these words: "The most hide-bound Conservative cannot fear Mr. Bryan with a Republican senate already fixed to outlast the presidential term."

That is a word of encouragement
for the fellows who followed Watterson away from Bryan for twelve years—who's afraid? Let's elect him president and get some more offices for the Louisville ring, which has annexed the Democracy of Kentucky. It's perfectly safe. Bryan can't do anything.

The suggestion to elect a man, whom Watterson once declared a dangerous monomaniac, because he can't do any harm with a senate against him comes with delightful and unexpected suddenness, following immediately after a paragraph, in which Watterson declares Roosevelt wrong the nomination away from the majority of the leaders of his own party, including the senate, by aid of the FEDERAL OFFICE HOLDERS.
Listen to his tirade:

"There is but one real underlying and paramount question in this campaign and that is, can the people by their own unaided strength change their government against the marching Army of Federal office-holders supported by unlimited supplies either wrung from or contributed by the Corporations? Is the Money Devil an over-match for the American Voter? Can the Administration at Washington successfully employ upon the country at large the ruthless agencies which were successfully employed at Chicago upon the Republican party? That is all there is to it, fellow Democrats and fellow-countrymen, no more and no less."

"Can the people?"—Pray who are the people, Col. Watterson? Was it the people who voted for Bryan and Parker, and the office holders and the corporations, who voted for McKinley and Roosevelt? There were 800-000 popular votes cast for Roosevelt more than for Bryan. There were 2,000,000 for Roosevelt more than for Parker. Were all these 7,000-000 voters, who supported the Republican candidates, in the power of the "Money Devil," were they all bought? Are not the Republican voters as honest as the Democratic voters? If they are not, the country is in a bad way, for the overwhelming majority have gone corrupt for twelve years. Are they not just as intelligent as the Democratic voters?
If they are not, then the majority of the adult male population of the United States is foolish. It is scarcely possible that, being honest and intelligent, the majority has been continually deceiving itself for twelve years, despite Mr. Bryan's chautau-que efforts. Col. Watterson ought to be able to enlighten us on that point, for he also was against Bryan all these twelve years.

Just to show how dishonest Col.
Watterson is in that argument, not three months ago he was predicting that the "Money Devil" would contribute to the Bryan campaign fund,

because it hates Roosevelt, and Taft represents the Roosevelt policies and ideals. He cannot hope to impugn the character of Roosevelt. Taft has come through a bitter fight unscathed.
The man, who had the temerity to denounce Boss Cox in his own state on the eve of a state election and with the knowledge of his own availability as a presidential candidate, and who refused to compromise with Foraker to gain a united delegation from his own state, is hardly to be damaged by any mere hysterical outcry.

There is nothing new in the Bryan campaign as outlined in Watterson's editorial. It is the same old noise—the cry of the party of "Fingy" Congressmen, Boss Murphy, Roger Sullivan, Tom Taggart, of French Lick, and the Louisville ring for the offices.

Is Col. Watterson entirely free from doubt in his own mind? Listen:
"We expect every thinking and loyal Democrat in the land to study the situation, leaving Mr. Bryan out of it; for Mr. Bryan is merely an instrument under heaven
Mr. Taft's personality, however attractive, is only an atom when we reflect that it is only the velvet hand of the old confidence game of high tariff and high finance."

What a pity, one cannot help musing, that Heaven did not select an "instrument" whose personality even Heaven's own mouthpiece declares "attractive," instead of one, which Colonel Watterson bids his henchmen to ignore.

Poor Col. Watterson, he does not speak out with the enthusiasm of an ardent convert. He takes Bryan as he says: "In spite of the argument we had made against his availability," and because "the belated movement to defeat his nomination appeared under equivocal patronage and involved the use of money which emanated from doubtful sources."

Could anything be more insulting than the covert slur of the whole reference to Bryan? Could anything be more debasing in American politics than the context?

In substance Watterson says: We have here a candidate, whom I have considered a dangerous fellow; but I shall support him this time, because I find that if he does not accept the nomination, someone else representing a worse element will get it.
Moreover, this fellow will be rendered helpless to injure the country by reason of the fact that the United States senate will be opposed to him for four years. He has been fighting the battles of the people against the
"Money Devil," and against me, too, if you please. You "masses" stand by him. He cannot hurt you. "Mr.
Money Devil." So you support him and thus rebuke Roosevelt and Taft and we'll all be happy. If I can support him, the rest of you can. Ugh!

BRYAN AND KERN

and although Bryan made no comment his pleasure was evident in the buoyant tone in which he read the statement.

Making Arrangements.

Dr. P. L. Hall, Nebraska's member of the national committee, discussed with Bryan the arrangements for Bryan's meeting with the committee here Tuesday.

The qualifications of a number of men for the position of chairman of the Democratic national committee were talked over informally, but their names were not to be learned either from Bryan or Hall. There is a disposition to leave the final selection to Bryan. Some forty or fifty of Governor Johnson's cohorts called at Fairview. In token of the surrender of the Johnson forces, Lester Elwood gave up his flag with Johnson's name on it to Bryan.

"The fight is over and we are with you now," was the assurance given Bryan by Congressman Hammonds, who placed Johnson in nomination.

Refutes Watson's Statement.

The following from a North Carolina editor was received at Fairview:
"Tom Watson quotes you as saying you would never vote for a Confederate veteran. Does this misrepresent you?"

In reply Bryan telegraphed that he never made any such statement;
that he had voted for a Confederate veteran for the speaker of the house of representatives on three occasions.
He recommended an ex-Confederate for postmaster at Lincoln, and while in congress entertained the best of relations with ex-Confederates.

Lawson for Bryan.

Boston, July 13.—Thomas W. Lawson has sent a long congratulatory telegram to William J. Bryan, pledging him his support and any reasonable campaign contribution.

The unlimited wealth of "the system," declares Mr. Lawson, will be drawn upon to elect Taft, and he states that $2,500,000 has already been pledged by Wall street for the same purpose.

Mr. Lawson's telegram says:
"I telegraphed you before the convention I did not believe you could be elected."

"In the light of the insult put upon the American people at Chicago when they were balked of the desire to have the one man, whose honesty and courage had been tested and found flawless, in the light of the unprecedented ability you showed this week in winning over to your cause the opposition and in the light of your abandonment of such poppy-cockishness as free silver and municipal ownership, I now believe I erred and that it is possible for you to be elected in November."

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

ILLUSTRATED BY A. WEIR

Something in the words she had thoughtlessly used recalled her own heart longing. What were the achievements of war, the inspirations of conflict, or the glories of triumph, in comparison with peace, love and home? With an indefinable sense of great yearning she thought that Guy was on the sea, going away from her and her people, and even in the heart of the radiophone which was canceling space at the rate of 500 miles an hour the distance between them seemed interminable. Life was made up of good-byes! And so in a reverie of bitterness she clung to the hood and fought against fatigue, until, as the morning was upon them, she sent the craft to rest in front of the shops where their return had been anxiously awaited. Overcome with weariness, and feeling throughout every fiber of her body the snapped tension of sudden relaxation, she staggered through the port into the fresh air of the dawn.

From every direction men were running madly to surround them, and even the Columbia was landing men upon the shores, who joined in the rush. The limping old admiral stood in the door, when Roberts, supported by two surgeons, appeared. Norma clashed him in her arms and burst into noiseless, nervous sobs, which he misinterpreted.

"Failed! You failed, my daughter?"
he asked forlornly, while the men waiting for news crowded forward to hear the answer. It was given by Bevins.

"Failed nothing! We cleaned them out and landed them where we started to without the loss of a life!"

Those still aboard the Columbia needed no messenger to bring the news. The workers of the plant burst into a frenzy of exultation. The admiral stilled them with an upraised hand.

"Men," he said, "I take no credit for the result, and I'm big enough so to report to Washington. This battle brought out three heroes, Brockton, Jenkins and above all this little girl, Norma Roberts." His "God bless her!" was lost in the tumult. They were men intoxicated with the wine of victory.
They yelled themselves hoarse. They patted one another on the back, hurled their caps into the air, and finally formed escorts of honor to conduct the men and officers of the fleet to their cabins, asking over and over for details of the fight.

And even as those tired fighters went to rest, in a city across the continent newshybs were crying their extras through the streets, and the citizens of a great city were asking one another how the night had worked out. A long patrolman had worked in Ravenna park, which bordered on Lake Washington, had sleepily rubbed his eyes as the sun was tinting the everlasting snows of the Olympics, and had come to a sudden stop, leaning against a tree and wondering if he was still asleep; but with his knuckles he could not obliterate the floating vision before him. He convinced himself by a lurch: "Hello, out there! What are you doing? Get off that lake!" and back to him there volleyed a storm of oburgations in an unknown tongue. Not until he had called a fellow officer and rowed a boat round those fallen monarchs of the deep did he learn that they were enative to his country, and then, glated with the news, he hastened to report it.

But this was not the only surprise for Seattle. For some days preceding troops had been pouring into the port, and it had been the general belief that they were being mobilized preparatory to embarkation for the Philippines or Japan. On this morning, however, there was an exodus. Nearly all the troops had disappeared in the night.
Likewise there were strange happenings in the telegraph offices. When men went to consign messages they were met with the intelligence that the wires were in charge of military operators, that nothing could be received for any point beyond the borders of the United States, and that all messages without exception would be censored before transmission. The newspapers fumed and roared, until they learned that all incoming news would pass uninterruptedly; but that for purposes known only to the government the story of the presence of the Japanese fleet would be closely guarded for the time being. For once the Post-Intelligence, the Times and Star united in attacking the administration.

Police officers forwarded appeals from the chamber of commerce to Washington; but the government answered that there was no alternative, because if the secret was known throughout the United States the chances for its leakage across the lines would be augmented. All Sound traffic stopped, and from the great union depot no departing trains rumbled. Within an hour it was known that a cordon of soldiers surrounded the city, and that all traffic, or communication with the outside world was interdicted. Seattle had been iso-captured fleet and the method of its taking were unknown to the country at large. Seattle extended all consistent courtesies to the vanquished;

but it afforded little balm.

And thus it was that for many days, imprisoned, powerless, and lost, with crippled tops, crushed stacks and under the white flag of surrender, the flower of Japanese prowess floated on an inland sea in smitten mourning, while the gasping world-shuddered in contemplation of its fate.

PLANT DYNAMITE MINES.

Lake Counties Take Unique Precautions Against Night Riders.

Nashville, Tenn., July 13.—The depredations of the night riders have caused the citizens of Tiptonville, in Lake county, to adopt extraordinary means for their mutual protection.
Five hundred pounds of dynamite have been planted in the shape of mines at every place in the county likely to receive a visit from the riders, and a committee from the Law and Order league, named for the purpose, has been trained to set off the mines at the proper moment.

The county jail in which suspects are imprisoned was surrounded last night, and the inmates failed to understand that a dummy hanging to a telephone pole at a convenient distance, was a representative of one of their number who had refused to talk when requested.

Five hundred men have been arrested in the Fourth district for alleged night riding. The arrests were based on information furnished from Obion county. Other arrests are to follow. It is said that many prominent men are under suspicion of being allowed with the desperadoes.

Twenty minutes before time to gratulate the Columbus players on their recent work. Then he stepped into the grand stand and took a seat beside Messrs. Brush and McGraw, of the New York National league club,

For two or three minutes the three were engaged in conversation, when

Unique Hotel Rules.
Speaking of the notices in hotel rooms," said a traveler at the St. Charles the other night, "I saw a set of rules in a hotel upstate the other day that would bring tears to the eyes of a cast iron yard dog. The proprietor must have been something of a practical joker." Here are the rules as he repeated them:

1. In case of fire jump out of the window and turn to the left.
2. If you want the porter writing the towel.
3. Don't worry about paying the bill, the house is supported by its foundation.
4. Baseballists desiring practice will find a pitcher on the wash-stand.
5. Guests subject to nightmares will find a halter on the bedpost.
6. There is no bar in the hotel, but guests who are thirsty will find springs under the bed.
7. For those who want to drive a hammer and nails will be left in the room.
8. In case the electric current is off take a feather out of the pillow and it will be light.

"And the wasn't a room 13 or 23 in the house," concluded the drummer.

TRIES TO CURE LEPROSY.
St. Louis Physician Uses Pork Chops and Exercises.

St. Louis, Mo., July 13.—How much would you pay for a leprosy Chinaman?

One is worth $50 a month to Dr. Mike Dwyer, quarantine physician, and $40 a month to John Warner, a trained nurse. To guard against the devious Celestial's escape, Warner does not leave his side day or night and is aided by a bull dog.

Mong Wing is the Chinaman's name. Improbable as it may seem, Dr. Dwyer is using skill and originality in treating Mong Wing which seems to warrant a belief in his eventual cure, though leprosy has been believed incurable.

Dr. Dwyer has placed him on a diet of pork chops, and has him annointed daily with mysterious Indian oils, which are the physician's secret. The ex-laundry man is also sent on cross-country runs, vigilantly guarded by the nurse and the dog, except on "washee" days.

MARINER'S COMPASS.

Influences That Draw It From Its Allegiance to Magnetic Pole.

Nothing in the navigation equipment of a ship has been the subject of more anxious scientific research or receives more jealous care than the mariner's compass.

The popular notion of the compass needle always pointing north and south is well, more inaccurate than even popular notions usually are. Even under the most favorable conditions there are only certain places upon the surface of the earth where the compass needle does point north and south, and it is quite safe to say that such conditions are never found on board of any ship.

But we must go further and say that no more unfavorable position could be found for a compass than on board a modern steamship, which is a complicated mass of steel, all tending to draw the compass needle from its allegiance to the magnetic pole of the earth, warring influences which must needs be counteracted by all sorts of devices which hedge around the instrument by an invisible wall of conflicting currents of magnetism.

And as if this were not enough there are now huge dynamos to be reckoned with producing electric currents for all sorts of purposes on board. In the midst of these mystic currents the poor little compass needle, upon which the mariner depends for his guide across the trackless deep, hangs suspended like one shrinking saint, surrounded by legions of devils.—Windsor Magazine.

"Why are you so anxious for second place on the ticket? The ticket is bound to lose."
"Certainly it is. But there would be some glory in sharing the worst licking a candidate ever got. I'm after a record."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MARRIED WOMEN

Every woman covets a shapely figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this liniment prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend makes the danger of child-birth less, and carries her safely through this critical period. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this remedy.

Sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

HOPEFUL SIGNS FOUND PLENTY

Crop Conditions Indicate Profitable Harvest.

Stimulation Observed in All Lines of Trade and Commerce This Early.

HENRY CLEWS AN OPTIMIST

New York, July 13.—The three most important influences contributing to strengthen the stock market this week were a good crop report, the dissipation of political uncertainty and an easy money market. Added to these developments were signs of business improvement and rising confidence in various quarters.

Good news of the right sort was forthcoming in the form of favorable crop reports. The July government estimates indicated 2,726,000,000 bushels of corn, which would be 130,000,000 bushels more than last year and has been exceeded but once, and that by the bumper crop of 2,927,000,000 in 1906. The wheat crop is estimated at 692,790,000 bushels, or 58,000,000 bushels in excess of last year, and closely approaches the largest crop on record. The promise for oats is 1,012,000,000, a bumper yield and comparing with 754,000,000 bushels a year ago. In addition to a full grain harvest the cotton crop promises to be abundant, prevalent estimates being about 13,000,000 bales; and we have already secured a good crop of hay. The fruit crops, too, are better than usual. There is, of course, the probability of these estimates being reduced by unfavorable weather. July and August are often months of deterioration, and in September there is always danger of early frosts to both cotton and corn. In the northerly sections of the producing states. But these two leading crops are not so backward as a year ago; and, with larger acreage and better condition than existed at this time in 1907, there is ample ground for hopefulness regarding the crop situation. Since prices for nearly all agricultural products are high, especially corn, our farmers are assured of another prosperous year. Cotton and wheat are cheaper than a year ago, but current prices still afford a liberal profit to the grower. Nothing more fortunate could happen at this time than a good harvest, for nothing could contribute more effectively toward a general revival of business than large and profitable crops. The wheat crop will stimulate railroad traffic, and the probability of a good export demand will strengthen our credit abroad. Corn is a product that will be turned largely into pork and beef; also giving a big tonnage to the railroads, and tending ere long to lower the present high and burdensome prices for meat products. Surely the country is justified in taking on a spirit of hopefulness as long as nature continues as a special partner.

Good Signs.

Outside of the agricultural situation there are also visible signs of improvement. Mr. Gary's optimistic interview regarding the steel trade had a good effect; for while it was evidently made as hopeful as possible, it really had a basis of facts, inasmuch as the reduction in prices stimulated orders, and placed the steel situation on a sounder basis. Perhaps new orders have come in less rapidly than expected; because the railroads persist in keeping out of the market on account of crippled financial conditions, and waiting for the steel market to touch bottom. The next largest consumer of iron is the building industry. And here, too, there are hopeful and satisfactory signs of revival. For months past the reports of building in all parts of the country have shown declines in aggregate of contracts varying from 3 to 45 per cent. In June, however, the reports from 72 cities showed a reduction compared with last year of only 8 per cent. The improvement was largely due to the resumption of work in this city, where the depression in building has been keenest. In the entire country there has been a reduction of fully 3 per cent in building expenditures during the past six months, so that the June returns were decidedly encouraging. Still another sign of improvement was the decrease of 36,000 in the number of unemployed cars during the month of June. Railroad officials are now beginning to emerge from their slough of despond, and to anticipate improved traffic returns during the coming weeks as a result of the harvest and trade betterments. Another satisfactory indication was in bank clearings, which in June showed a loss of only 22 per cent compared with losses of 25 or 30 per cent and over in earlier months. The losses in bank clearings are at last becoming less pronounced in the eastern cities, and more visible in the west, showing that the panic wave is gradually passing westward, and should in due time be lost in the Pacific ocean. Facts such as these are of infinitely greater value as a basis of judgment than all the chatter and "mental healing" treatment of our well meaning prosperity boomers, who evidently wanted others to take risks which they themselves were unwilling or unable to assume.

The Election.

In view of all these favorable developments it is not surprising that the market took on a wider and stronger activity. At the moment the indications are that the present rise may be carried to a still higher level, there being no hindrance in sight except the possibility of realizing which naturally increases as the advance progresses. The present advance, however, is being conducted by big operators who have immense monetary resources behind them. The public is not in the market to any extent, and never does enter until a pronounced rise has begun to take place. It is not likely, therefore, that the present leaders will let go until a period for safe unloading has arrived. Considering the removal of important political uncertainties, and that the worst effects of the panic are behind us, and that everybody believes the situation is more likely to improve than retrograde, the conditions are certainly favorable in important respects for bullish manipulations. The political campaign involves no critical issues such as the integrity of our currency system; and the tariff question, the only one likely to unsettle business, is pretty sure to be handled in a conservative fashion and with as little disturbance to trade and industry as possible. History shows that presidential campaigns have not usually exerted the detrimental influence upon business that is generally supposed. It is only when some grave issue was at stake, such as the silver craze in 1896, that business has been seriously in danger. The memory, however, of such an experience is lasting, and tends to unnecessarily stimulate doubt when occasion suggests. The operations of market leaders are just now greatly facilitated by excessive redundancy in the money market, which practically amounts to a considerable degree of inflation. Our banks are congested with idle money, which they will lend only to borrowers of unquestionable credit and upon the best collateral. There is fortunately a great deal of conservatism still prevailing in banking circles; as well as a general disposition to have nothing to do with new financial schemes or flotations, except those of the most desirable class. The fact, also, that many of those engaged in syndicates and other financial operations previous to the panic are still more or less tied up financially acts as a preventive upon various speculative enterprises. But aside from this class there are many rich capitalists with abundant resources, and it is chiefly these who are now actively discouraging changes in the business and political situation, which are confidently expected to be more apparent in the last quarter of the year than in the current quarter. The stock market today is dealing freely in "expectations," and as usual is liberally discounting them. It is to be sincerely hoped that such expectations will be fully realized, and that prudence will protect us from the injurious effects of over-confidence with which we are already too familiar.

The maintenance of Baltimore & Ohio dividend was hardly a step in the right direction, and a reduction in accordance with the times would have inspired more confidence.

HENRY CLEWS.

South's Condition.

Baltimore, Md., July 13.—Indicative of returning activity in the south is the announcement in this week's issue of the Manufacturers' Record of the determination to begin active work upon the development of 32,000-horsepower on the Little Tennessee river near the boundary line of North Carolina and Tennessee, for industrial use in Knoxville and, perhaps, at other points. The hydroelectric plant and its appurtenances will cost about $3,000,000.

Other indications of returning activity are in manifestations of the iron market at Birmingham, Ala. Among those to whom iron is due there is a general desire shown in every mail for prompt shipments, and one railroad alone carried from the district 14,000 tons of iron in June, while the sales of one company in that month totalled 51,000 tons. There has been some halting in textile construction in the south, but, nevertheless, announcements of additions in the second quarter of the year of 23,000 spindles, of which 5,000 are for enlargement of an established mill, were in excess of 1,100 spindles on the announcements in the first quarter of the year. Of the new spindles of the second quarter 13,000 are for North Carolina and 5,000 each for South Carolina and Alabama.

That won't come off, appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face. If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S. — Backwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions, which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting-tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were known to in good time. The Favorite Prescription has given a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally aroused, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-toxic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection, it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that it is as a remedy for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended, a little look of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE EGYPT OF ILLINOIS.

Origin of Name Unfavorably Designating Part of the State Itself.

The year 1824 was very wet. Heavy rains fell frequently. Corn on flat lands was a total failure. That year the weevil destroyed the wheat after it was harvested. The next year, 1825, there was a remarkable growth of thistles on the branch bottoms. The winter of 1829-31 was known as the winter of deep snow. The snow was of a depth of from two and a half to three feet on a level. It drifted much and was very destructive to fruit trees. The summer was intensely hot. Both in 1831 and 1832 the early frosts so injured the corn as to entirely render it worthless for almost any purpose.

During the years between and including 1824-32, so nearly corresponded to the years of famine in the days of Pharaoh and his ruler, as he made Joseph to be the people of Illinois, dependent upon the southern part of the state for so much grain, particularly corn, in remembrance of the Bible story began to call the part of the state which had been so helpful in time of need Egypt.—Albion, Ill., Journal.

CANTON--CHRISTMAS ABOARD SHIP

The Funny Things One Sees in
Smiling Round the World

By
MARSHALL P. WILDER

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

Canton, in spite of its dirt, in spite of its myriad and insistent smells, is fascinating. Beside the ordinary sights of street life that are like a kaleidoscope for change and color, there is a tall and stately pagoda to be seen, the "how-ly" pagoda, your guide will tell you. Another, known as the five-story pagoda, built in the year 1400, stands at the point of the citadel, the culminating point of the city wall, the ramparts of which are decorated with grotesque little cannon of a bygone age, resting in worm-eaten and rotting wooden gun carriages.

Another sight of Canton is Examination Hall, an institution peculiarly Chinese. Here are 7,500 cells in rows, the fronts open to the air. They are only four feet by three, and their only furniture a couple of boards, laid crossways, one for a seat and the other for a writing desk.

Here the civil service examinations take place for the whole province. Students who wish to compete enter a cell, where they remain for three days and nights, absolutely alone, and guarded by soldiers to see that they have no communication with each other, or with anyone outside.

The examination lasts nine days altogether, in groups of three, with intervals of three days in between, when the students may go outside. It is exceedingly arduous, for there is not room for comfortable sleep, and the tests are very severe.

It is, however, the ambition of every man to pass this examination if he can. Some old students have been known to go there every three years for 30 years without passing. Out of perhaps 6,000 or 7,000 never more than 800 pass, generally much less.

A man who passes is then eligible for any magisterial office in the provincial government, and if he is still more ambitious and can pass the examination at Peking, as well, he is eligible for metropolitan offices.

So that in China education is the only patent of nobility. In this respect it is one of the most democratic countries in the world, for a man may rise from the lowest rank to a high position.

Only three castes are prohibited from competing in the examinations, barbers, actors and chiropodists, who are prohibited from most things, as well as their descendants for three generations.

The good ship Prinz Eitel Friedrich bore us bravely from Hong-Kong on our way to India's spiny isles, and also furnished an experience the like of which we had known neither before nor since. I refer to our Christmas dinner, which we ate amid surroundings so truly novel as to seem to us now almost as the passing of a dream.

The Eitel Friedrich was not merely a good, staunch ship; she was a magnificent appointed steamer—in short, a floating palace, and the dinner which we ate—each smallest component part thereof, from soup to coffee—was laid in at Bremen before the steamer sailed. The splendid tree, a big green fir, had been cut in Japan and lay strapped to the lower deck, lest some sudden cataclysm of the elements might roll it overboard and cheat us of what proved to be the most enjoyable part of our Christmas feast.

It was understood before leaving Hong-Kong that the most important part of the festivities, i. e. the presents, must be purchased there; so a pool was formed and the presents—having been selected and purchased by a member detailed for the purpose—were handed up the ship's side in packages on the end of sticks, or dangling from strings, or in small butterfly nets, so that the lottery effect was maintained and no one could know what his neighbor held. This mode of procedure provoked hearty laughter and much curiosity as to the ultimate fate of the gifts, each one being securely wrapped until the eventful day should appear.

The 24th of December dawned—not, as we should say in America, clear and cold—but "muggy" and hot. Clothing, even of the thinnest sort, seemed superfluous; exertion, even the mildest, sent little streams of moisture trickling down towards one's shirt collar. But, never mind. It was

Christmas—dear old Christmas eve, and if we were 6,000 miles—more or less—away from home, we were not going to have any less pleasure and happiness out of the occasion. So we donned our bravest attire and, summoned by the bugle, made our way with the rest of the passengers, also in full dress, to the dining saloon. Here a scene of marvelous beauty burst upon our eyes; but don't ask me to describe that table. Running the whole length of the gorgeous saloon it was decorated and twined and blazoned with potted plants and vines, garlands and flags, the whole being set off by a most ingenious and beautiful arrangement of electric lights, that peeped out from every leaf and fold and dish as though some fairy wand had touched them into glittering wonder. Little Swiss chalets, set amid snows of cotton and spangled icicles, gleamed with lights in every tiny window; cascades ran down through little ice-georgs, lit up with fiery gleams; the hearts of Christmas crosses sent out flashes of beauty, while at the head of the table was a snow man of life-like size and proportion, whose smile was as broad as his ample form. Truly a wonderful sight.

And the dinner—well, I have eaten many dinners, and many Christmas dinners, but this was absolutely unique. The cuisine of the German steamers is world-famed, and justly so. The celebrated P. & O. line starves you to death in the most highly genteel manner. The insular exclusiveness of this ancient institution, like that of the much overrated Cunard, has wrung the stomach and bled the pocket of the wayfarer for nearly half a century, while the chilly hauteur of its officers has sent many a passenger to his berth with a frigid heart. Rudyard Kipling says that if you want a favor of one of these magistrates you must stand on your head before the chief officer and wave your feet supplicatingly in the air.

The serving of the Christmas dinner was truly gorgeous. The procession of waiters reached from the dining table to the kitchen, and each course was brought in with as much pomp as though it were a banquet to Old King Cole as we see it pictured in the children's holiday books.

The oysters, the soup, the fish, each had their separate procession, and the turkey—ah! that turkey! borne aloft on a platter, accompanied by all the "trimmings," each with a separate bearer; while the "grave" words fail me. How shall I describe the grave-bearer? A youth with solemn brow and stately step, who bore aloft upon one hand the dish of gravy, as though it were an offering to royalty. In the matter of style he certainly was all to the grave!

With the dessert and coffee song and merriment burst forth. Every conceivable Christmas glee and carol—not omitting the good old "Tannenbaum" of the Vaterland, which these German officers rolled forth with a volume that made the dishes dance—was sung. And then, the tree!

This gorgeous piece of upholstery reached from the floor up into the which lantern, which is the nautical name for the open dome which rises far up almost out of sight from the saloon. Every year the decorations are brought out from their storing place and hung upon the tree, and most gorgeous are they to behold, glittering with electric lights and swaying to and fro with every motion of the vessel.

The distribution of presents was a jolly ending to the evening's festivity. Some people got their own presents, that they had bought in contributing to the pool, but they enjoyed them just as much. One of ours was a handsome silver spoon, engraved with Chinese characters similar to those on the case which was presented to me by Mr. Wei Yuk in Hong-Kong, and which mean "long life and happiness," or something to that effect.

The next day we arrived at Singapore, and it was with indescribable feelings that I stepped ashore in a glare of tropic sunlight, saying to myself, "Christmas day! It is impossible—I cannot believe it!"

But it was, and I smiled as I said to a friend: "Well, we're certainly in for a hot old time, all right, if nothing else!"

How is Julia on Splitting Wood?

Miss Julia Chapman won a set of silver knives, forks and spoons in a board-sawing contest given by a medicine show in Steiwer hall Wednesday evening. She went through her board before any of her competitors had got well started.—Fossil (Ore.) Journal.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION DAY

Will be August 20 For Mc-Cracken County.

Two Churches Dismiss Evening Services for Chautauqua, Where Vespers Are Held.

NEWS OF PADUCAH CHURCHES.

Committees are now working on the details of the annual Sunday school convention of McCracken county, which will be held August 20, though the place has not been selected. It is possible that the convention will be held at some point in the county where an all-day program could be carried out.

Two churches have discontinued their evening services during the Chautauqua season from July 17 to 26 inclusive. The German Evangelical church will have no evening service, as the Rev. Bourquin sang a solo last evening.

The Rev. David C. Wright, rector of the Grace Episcopal church, announces that no service will be held during the Chautauqua. He will conduct vespers services on one Sunday evening at the Chautauqua pavilion.

First Christian.
Dr. James Vernon, of Henderson, preached Sunday morning at the First Christian Church to a large congregation from the text, "Heaven and Earth Shall Pass Away, But My Word Shall Not Pass Away." No evening service was held.

Tax the Women of Paducah the Same as Elsewhere.

Hard to attend to household duties With a constantly aching back. A woman should not have a bad back.

And she wouldn't if the kidneys were well. Doan's Kidney Pills make well Kidneys.

Here is a Paducah woman who endorses this claim:

Mrs. R. E. E. Whitner, of 820 South Sixth street, Paducah, Ky., says: "For years I was a sufferer from kidney trouble. At times my back was so lame that I was unable to get around the house. I doctored and received very little benefit until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at DuBois Son & Co.'s drug store. I took the mass directed and the results were very satisfactory. I certainly believe that I would have been confined to my bed by this time were it not for Doan's Kidney Pills."

In addition to the choir many members of the congregation brought their dinners and spent the larger part of the day at the church. The Rev. William Grother preached in the afternoon.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN IS SEEKING A DIVORCE.

New York, July 13.—John L. Sullivan is suing for divorce. Yes, the John L. Sullivan. He's seeking freedom from his wife, Annie, whom he married 25 years ago in Boston. The papers were filed today in the office of the county clerk in Brooklyn. Justice Lester W. Clark permitting service by publication on Sullivan's wife, who, the papers say, is at present living in Centerville, L. I.

Rumors that a rich widow is to give her heart, hand and fortune to the one-time king of the prize ring are afloat in connection with Sullivan's latest move, but the name of the woman has not come out, though she is said to be a resident of New York.

Sullivan married when he was at the zenith of his career in 1883, but his dream of bliss was short, and in a little time the pugilist gave the wife his house and departed.

THUMB'S SHAPE MAY WIN LAND.

By Lack of a Joint Californian and Sister Hope to Prove Ownership.

Newark, N. J.—By the absence of the middle joint in the thumb, said to have been a family characteristic for many generations, James M. Smith and his sister, Mrs. Annie E. Eldridge, both of Los Angeles, Cal., hope to prove ownership of property in the heart of this city. They assert it was owned by an ancestor named Smith, who fled the city in 1830 to escape punishment for alleged arson in the burning of his shoe store.

Today they examined records in the courthouse and in fire headquarters without discovering any clue.

NANNIE STREET

DIES AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS
AT 127 FOUNTAIN AVENUE.

Daughter of D. T. Street Is Survived By Large Family of Brothers and Sisters.

Miss Nannie Street, a popular young woman of 127 Fountain avenue, died at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. Miss Street was born in Savannah, Tenn., and had lived in Paducah for eight years. She had made many friends in Paducah among the large circle of people with whom she associated. Miss Street was 37 years old and had been ill for 10 years and became seriously ill last October.

Miss Street is survived by her father, D. T. Street, six brothers and four sisters. Her brothers are Captain David, John, Charles, George and Frank Street, of Paducah, and W. T. Street, of Nashville, Ark. Her sisters are Mrs. George Morris, of Chattanooga, and Mrs. M. N. Coulson and Misses Mamie and Blanche Street, of Paducah.

Miss Street was a devout member of the Broadway Methodist church. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence. Services were conducted by the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church. The burial was in Oak Grove cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Charles Baker, E. W. Baker, Capt. Frank Brown, Gus Wright, George Dippie and Virgil Sherrill.

MISS ELKINS AT "QUIRINAL:" NEWS SHAKES ROME'S HILLS.

Rome, July 13.—The Eternal City was shaken throughout its seven hills by the report that Miss Katherine Elkins, the purported fiancée of the duke of Abruzzi, had arrived secretly at the Quirinal.

Reporters and staff photographers were rushed in hurry up time to the royal palace, where they attempted by cajolery and more practical methods to get confirmation of the news from porters, guardsmen and gentlemen in waiting.

Falling in this, several live newspaper men, disguised as waiters and gardeners, were about to try to gain entrance to the palace and solve the mystery.

Their commendable efforts in detective journalism were rendered null and void by the announcement from a hotel reporter that there was a Miss Elkins in Rome, but she didn't register from West Virginia.

She is Miss Louise B. Elkins, of Philadelphia, and she is stopping at the Quirinal hotel instead of the Quirinal palace.

MINISTER'S WIFE CAKE WALKS.

Rev. Wilbur Mann Asked to Resign,
But Declines.

Pittsburg, July 13.—There is turmoil in the Evangelical Lutheran church at El Rama. Several nights ago several members of the congregation gave a lawn fete for the benefit of the Sunday school. One of the attractions of the fete was a cake walk between the young and beautiful wife of the pastor, the Rev. Wilbur C. Mann, and William Atkins, superintendent of the Sunday school. Rev. Mann looked on in approval, while William Talston, secretary of the congregation, and some other members were horribly shocked.

Today a congregational meeting was held at which Rev. Mr. Mann was asked to resign. He refused to do so and about half of the congregation is back of him. He threatens to take the case to the courts if an attempt is made to force him out.

Canada's Timber Lands.

The opponents of the national forestry policy in the United States have laid especial stress upon the streams of American home builders flowing across the line into Canada. They have dwelt tearfully upon the loss of national strength caused by a cruel government, which, forbidding its citizens to make homes on its woodlands, drives them to a more hospitable foreign land. But now the government of British Columbia has put into forest reserves at one stroke 150,000,000 acres—as much in that single province as all the forest reserves of the United States put together. The entire area of British Columbia is less than 240,000,000 acres, so that the government has reserved in one block about five-fifths of all the land in the province. Yet Senator Heyburn of Idaho wails piteously because the United States government has put about two-fifths of his state into national forests.

In British Columbia there are practically no timber lands in the market. The lumberman who wishes to cut trees must deal with the government. Lands not in the forest reserves may be leased, subject to a royalty on all timber cut. It is to be noted that the enlightened policy which gives the people the control of their own timber resources is carried out by the local government of the province itself. Unlike some of our western states, British Columbia does not hang back in sullen protest by a distant national authority.—Collier's Weekly.

Can't Find Cooks.

"It's an easy matter to hire a washer woman now, but to procure the services of a cook, is almost impossible," said a gentleman this morning, after tramping over the section of the city inhabited by colored people, seeking in vain for a cook. "It's just this way every summer, the cooks all quit the kitchen when it gets hot and endeavor to make a living by doing family washings. A dozen women have applied at my house for laundry work during the past week, but they are deaf to all entreaties to enter the kitchen and do cooking."

—The merchant who is a good advertiser has to confine most of his "worrying" to such things as the expansion and improvement of equipment, the addition of new lines and stocks, the finding of more help, the problem of larger quarters.

CARTERVILLE IS EASY FOR INDIANS

Mayfield Gives Metropolis All She Asks Until Eighth Inning and Then Lets Down.

THE SUNDAY BASEBALL GAMES

Easy is the word that describes the Carterville, Ill., bunch of ball players who stacked up against the Paducah Indians at Wallace park Sunday afternoon. Nine runs, nine hits and one error for the Indians and 0 runs, one scratchy hit and seven errors for Carterville tells the tale graphically. Only twenty-nine men faced Runyan, the Indians' pitcher, a remarkable record, and he struck out fifteen men, Harris and Padgett pitched for Carterville and they struck out three men. Carterville is not in the same class with the Indians.

Better sport is promised for next Sunday, as the Indians will play the W. O. W. team of Cairo, a fast team which will take an interest in making the Indians work for their victory.

SHAH APOLOGIZES TO ENGLAND.

Ruler of Persia Tells British Minister He's Sorry.

Teheran, July 13.—The Persian minister of foreign affairs read a written apology from the shah to the British minister in the legation building in connection with the recent surrounding of the legation by Cossacks. All the members of the legation were present in full uniform and awaited the arrival of the minister, who also was in full uniform. The apology was signed by the shah and sealed with his seal.

LET HIS ARM COOK TO SAVE MINERS GOING DOWN SHAFT.

Belleville, Ill., July 13.—Rather than take his hand from a lever which controlled the descent into a coal mine of a cage containing twelve miners, Sidney Rowland, an engineer, let his arm cook in scalding steam until the cage reached the bottom. Then he fell unconscious and is in a serious condition. Rowland had just started the cage and had his hand on the controlling lever when a pipe burst and a jet of steam played on his arm. If he released the lever the cage would drop down 100 feet; so he hung on.

CHINESE IN BOX CAR.

Nine Discovered at Abilene Being Shipped into United States.

Abilene, Tex., July 13.—According to telephonic advices from United States Immigration Inspector T. R. Dilworth, Toyah, Tex., Deputy Sheriff Felix Rains broke the seals of a box car at Baird today and arrested nine Chinese concealed there, who, it is alleged, were being smuggled into this country. The car came from San Francisco and was consigned to Pittsburg, Pa. It was about half loaded with beans and sacks, and the Chinese had about 40 gallons of water in cans, a box of crackers and a couple of loaves of bread when arrested, which was what was left of the provisions they started with.

The San Francisco seal on the car had not been broken and it had no windows and it is a mystery how the men lived in such a close place. Deputy Rains brought the men to Abilene, where they were placed in jail, where they will await examination and possibly deportation.
